Deafness Cannot Be Cured
 by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
 We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.
They Are Middletown People, and What They Say is of Local Interest.
 When an incident like the following occurs right here at home it is bound to carry weight with our readers. When so many strange occurrences go the rounds of the press, are published as facts: when the intelligent reader knows they cannot be true, there is no wonder that people become skeptical. On one subject skepticism is gradually disappearing. This is due to the actual personal experience of our citizens and their public utterances regarding them. The doubter must doubt no more in the face of such as this. The public statement of a reputable citizen living right here at home, one whom you can see every day, leaves no ground for the skepticism to stand on.
 —William Duclap, No. 32 Liberty street, follows the occupation of a blacksmith and can be found during working hours at the factory belonging to the Condensed Milk Co. He says:
 "About seven years ago my kidney trouble commenced. At first it was only a backache now and then, but by and by it became more frequent and the first thing I knew I had more of it than I cared for. So severe was it at times I could scarcely stand it. Soreness in the lower part of the abdomen set in and the urinary organs were weakened, causing me to get up frequently at night and annoy me during the day. My past efforts to get rid of my trouble failed me but I determined to try again and I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. E. Mills' drug store on North street. I am glad to determine that I know that Doan's Kidney Pills are all that is claimed of them. They cured me. I can conscientiously recommend them."
 Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Sent by mail on receipt of price. For sale by all dealers.
 Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

TOWERS FOR LIGHTS.
Electric Lamps at a Great Height Have Not Proved Successful.
 When are lights were first introduced for street lighting there was a very exaggerated idea of their lighting power, says the Engineering News. A light of 1,000-candle power seemed such a powerful illuminator that the idea was very naturally conceived of placing lamps on the top of tall towers and lighting the whole area of a city. Several municipalities adopted this tower system of lighting, of which the best known example is doubtless Detroit. It was at once found, however, that a cluster of arc lamps 150 feet or more from the ground might be an excellent plan for lighting the whole of a large area, but was a very poor plan for lighting city streets. In the average American city, with long blocks, the streets comprise not more than one-third of the area. Hence with the tower system of lighting 66 per cent, or more of the illuminating power is wasted in lighting up house roofs, back yards and vacant lots.
 Nearly every city of which we have information that originally adopted the tower system of lighting has abandoned it. It is therefore quite surprising to learn that Des Moines, Ia., proposes to put in a municipal street-lighting plant and to use the tower system. What consideration influenced the city authorities to adopt this system we do not know, but we would strongly urge them to investigate the experience of Detroit and other cities with the tower system of lighting before they construct such a plant in their own city.

TROLLEY WITHOUT WIRES.
Paris to Have an Electric System That Is Robbed of Many Dangers.
 The electric trolley system to be introduced in Paris in time for the international exposition of 1900 is vastly different from that commonly employed in the United States, inasmuch as the dangerous overhead wires are absolutely done away with. The new system, says the Philadelphia Record, is the invention of the French engineer Bochet, and, while rather simple, it steers clear of the objection on account of unsightly obstruction, which is usually raised when overhead wires have to go up. Bochet establishes overhead contacts from electric lamp posts belonging to the city. The distance between posts being somewhat smaller than the length of the electric train, consisting of two or three cars, so that contact is always assured at one point at least. Through flexible points of contact suspended from each electric light post along the proposed line the current will be taken up by means of a copper rail fastened along the edge of the roof of the car not less than 14 or 15 feet from the ground. The contact point will slide along that copper rail, and there is not the slightest difficulty in establishing a continuous current if the points of contact are made sufficiently elastic. The current is allowed to return to the power station through the track of the line, as usual. This system offers all the benefits of the overhead, as well as of the underground systems, without any of their shortcomings.

The Mississippi Rising.
 Minneapolis, July 9.—The Mississippi river at this point is within six inches of the highest mark reached in the unprecedented floods of April last. Between 4,000 and 5,000 men are out of employment as a result of the necessary closing down of the sawmills, and there will be heavy losses on logs if the rise continues. The new power dam has been damaged again, repairs resulting from the spring freshets being in progress and the work being unprepared for this unexpected flood.

The Jersey Airship.

FRIDAY, JULY 9, 1897.

It is suggested that one of the morals to be drawn from the Guldensuppe tragedy is that barbers should not dabble in crime. The proverbial garb of the craft seems to have been the undoing of Thorn.

Capt. Dickey, of Newburgh, who is very willing to serve his country as Commissioner of Navigation, was in Washington, yesterday, urging Congressman Odell to "get a hustle on" and help him secure the coveted place.

The Democrats are "out of it" so far as the conference on the tariff bill is concerned. The minority members of the Senate and House conference committees were bluntly told, yesterday, that they need not attend any meetings, but would be allowed to see the report before it was made to the two houses. The treatment accorded the Democratic conferees might have been more courteous, but neither they nor the country at large should object to the Republicans assuming all responsibility for the tariff bill. If it provides sufficient revenue and helps to restore prosperity they will be certain to claim all the credit. If, as is more than likely, it fails as a revenue-raiser and as a help to the country's business interests and merely increases the people's burdens for the benefit of favored trusts and monopolies, the Republicans have now left no loophole of escape and must accept full responsibility for their handiwork.

Pennsylvania's new law imposing a tax of three cents a day on unutilized foreign laborers employed in the State has caused a great stir for naturalization papers. Men who cared nothing for the rights and privileges of citizenship, or who retained their allegiance to the land of their birth that they might escape the duties of citizenship, are now thronging the courts to secure naturalization papers and escape the tax. These men are in the main unworthy of citizenship. It is worth three cents a day to them and means nothing more. They are ignorant and utterly lacking in American spirit, and their possession of citizens' rights only serves to swell the number of mercenaries who will make merchandise of the ballot. The law is making of the purpose for which it was enacted, for its makers intended it merely as a revenue measure and apparently never thought of the loophole afforded by the naturalization courts. Had they done so it is safe to say that they would not have offered a premium of three cents a day on American citizenship.

The Report That He Has Done So Denied—Search for the Missing Head in Progress.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, July 9.—Martin Thorn and Mrs. Knack, the alleged murderers of William Guldensuppe, maintain their composure, and Thorn has not confessed the murder to the police, as claimed by a morning paper. Both are now in the Tombs, having been taken there after their appearance before Justice Flammer in the Jefferson Market Court, this morning. On account of their indictment by the Grand Jury, the prosecuting officers opposed further hearing in the lower court, but the attorney for Mrs. Knack demands such a hearing. The question will be decided next Monday. The search for the head of the murdered man continues.

FUNERAL OF MRS. THRALL.

Meld at Her Late Residence This Afternoon—A Very Large Attendance.

The funeral of Mrs. S. M. Thrall was held at her late residence on Grove street, at 2 o'clock, this afternoon. The attendance was very large, the porch being crowded while many found room upon the capacious lawn to pay a silent tribute to the dead.

The house was trimmed with palms and smilax, and large bunches of roses. The casket of red cedar, covered with black English broadcloth, was open full length up to the beginning of the services when it was closed, and a large wreath of galax leaves was placed upon it.

Rev. Dr. Thomas Gordon officiated, and he paid high tribute to the generosity of her who has gone. A quartette, composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Adams, George Wickham and Miss Myra Mapes, sang several selections.

The honorary pall bearers were H. K. Wilcox, Daniel Finn, N. M. Hallock, D. W. Berry, H. W. Wiggins, and A. V. N. Powelson. The casket was carried by four porters.

The Common Council and the Board of Lady Managers and the Advisory Board of Thrall Hospital attended in a body.

Between the hours of 2 and 3, while the funeral was in progress, nearly all of the stores about town closed up entirely or dropped their curtains.

WAS G. B. TAYLOR INSANE?

The Inquiry Into His Mental Condition Began Thursday.

The commissioners appointed to inquire into the mental condition of Grant B. Taylor—Dr. Pillsbury, of this city, and Dr. Howell and John M. Martfield—held their first hearing at the court house in Newburgh, yesterday. The proceedings were strictly private. Assistant District Attorney Seeger was present on behalf of the people. More testimony will be taken at another hearing to be held later.

Evidence is not being taken as to Mr. Taylor's mental condition at this time. The claim is not made that he is insane now, but it is alleged that he was mentally irresponsible at the time of the alleged forgery of the Carle-McClung mortgage for $6,000.

PATRICK MCENEANEY'S DEATH.

Examination of Joseph McAvoy, Accused of Killing Him—Dr. Banks Thinks a Blow from a Club Caused Death.

The examination of Joseph McAvoy, who is charged with having caused the death of Patrick McEneaney, of Port Jervis, was opened before Justice McCormick, in that village, this morning.

Several witnesses testified, including Dr. Banks, who was even more emphatic that the death was not the result of a fall than he was at the inquest. He stated that in his opinion McEneaney was killed by a blow from a club or other blunt instrument.

An adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock, this afternoon, and the lawyers do not expect to get through to-day.

PUBLIC VOICE.

Like an Echo of Pessimistic Theology

EDITOR ARGUS.—I am one of many in Middletown who were given cold chills when they came to these words in the memorial of Mrs. Thrall adopted by the managers of the hospital: "While not reflecting upon the wisdom of Divine Providence, which has made Mrs. Thrall a great sufferer for years."

That sounds like an echo of the pessimistic theology of the past of the days when men were taught to fear a God of wrath rather than to love a God of love. N. M.

Grand Officers of I. O. O. F. to Be Here, To-night.

COUNCIL'S PROMPT ACTION.

Memorial Presented To-day In Regard to Mrs. Thrall's Death

In accordance with a suggestion made in the August Mayor Perry called a special meeting of the Common Council at 1 o'clock, to-day, to act upon the death of Mrs. S. M. Thrall. President Mance, Alderman Hirst, Tierney, Ogden, Allen, Memory, Ayres and Bastian were present.

Mr. Tierney moved that a committee of three and the Mayor be appointed to prepare a suitable memorial. The chair appointed Aldermen Tierney, Rustain Allen and the Mayor.

Mr. Tierney also moved that the Council attend the funeral in a body. Carried.

Mr. Tierney presented the following memorial:

In this hour, when with reverential and loving hands, we are soon to bestow the last sad rites due mortality to the body of Mrs. S. M. Thrall, it is felt by this Council, representative of the sentiment of an entire community, that it pay public tribute to the memory of this woman, so ennobled by her deeds of public philanthropy.

It is to be said of Mrs. Thrall that she enjoyed the enviable distinction, and ever to be remembered distinction, of being Middletown's first benefactor or benefactress, and that the munificence of her gifts is only exceeded by the wisdom which guided her in the purposes to which she devoted them.

For these things the memory of this noble woman will ever be enshrined in the hearts of all this people, and in generations yet to come and go and come, the generous provisions she has made to minister to the ills of the body, public recreation and culture of the mind will lead her name more enduring fame and generation than monumental shaft or imposing mausoleum. She, glorified by her works here, surely is glorified in heaven.

MISSION PRINTING PRESSES.

Meeting of the Society of the First Presbyterian Church at Mrs. Talcott's Home.

The members of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church were entertained at the home of Mrs. S. H. Talcott, Thursday afternoon. Through the courtesy of Dr. Talcott the ladies were met at the end of the trolley by carriage and taken to the house.

Although the day was very warm, this fact was forgotten when seated on the pleasant shady piazza, where the meeting was held.

The subject of the meeting was "Mission Printing Presses" and several instructive and interesting papers on that subject were read.

After some music the programme ended with a short practical talk on the blessing of the printing press and prayer.

Refreshments were served and a pleasant social time passed.

The next meeting will be held in the church parlors, Thursday, August 12.

THE RAILWAY MURDER MYSTERY.

Mrs. Harris' story Confirmed by Her Sister, Mrs. Williams, Formerly Mrs. Space.

Mrs. Charles Williams, of Syracuse formerly Mrs. William Space, of Deckertown, who, ten years ago, identified the victim of the Railway murder as her sister, Mary Dorman, has made a statement to the Herald confirming the story told by her sister, Mrs. Jennie Harris, that the girl was murdered by a relative by marriage. She says that the man who confessed the murder on his deathbed went to Scotland and telling the family that the talk about the murder of Mary Dorman was creating a great scandal induced them to palm off another Mary Dorman on the newspaper man who was working up the case.

HERE'S A SUGGESTION.

SOUBRETTE DROPPED THE CASE

Did Not Appear Against Dr. Butler's Son Who Wrote an Improper Note.

Maurice Butler, the sixteen-year-old son of Dr. W. M. Butler, of Brooklyn, who was arrested Monday at Bergen Beach, charged by Edith Hall, a sourette, with sending her an improper and annoying note, was discharged, yesterday, in the Flatbush police court, the complainant failing to appear. Their reasons for believing that the boy was tricked into sending the note by old hands.

The case has some local interest from the fact that Dr. Butler was at one time connected with the medical staff of the State Hospital and acted as superintendent before Dr. Talcott came here.

LINCOLN'S DEED AND BOND:
Some Old Documents That Throw Light on Family History.

Parsons & Taft, of Chicago, who handle farm mortgages, lately came into possession of a collection of papers that included a deed to Abraham Lincoln from his father and mother, and another deed, or a bond for a deed, from Abraham Lincoln to John D. Johnson. The land was the homestead of Thomas Lincoln, a tract of 40 acres in Coles county, Ill.

The transactions took place in 1841, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. In that year Lincoln's father, Thomas, an old man, lived on the Coles county farm, and was in poor circumstances. The son came to his father's assistance and bought the old farm. He paid down $200 in cash and gave the parents the use of the place. Abraham Lincoln, in the same year the property was conveyed to him, made a contract to sell the farm to John D. Johnson for $200 when the life estate of both Thomas and Sarah Lincoln should be extinguished.

Johnson did not long retain his equity in the property. Thomas Lincoln died shortly after. Mrs. Lincoln did not want to leave the farm, and Johnson was not in a situation to take care of her, so he transferred his bond to John J. Hall, a relative of the Lincolns, who moved with his wife to the Lincoln homestead and took care of the old lady until her death. For some reason Hall seems to have called on Abraham Lincoln to execute the deed and cancel the bond. There must have been some tacit arrangement between them, for his right to the possession was never questioned. He had doubtless fulfilled his obligation to the mother of Lincoln.

QUEEN MARGUERITE'S POODLE.
King Humbert Used His Hair Dye on the Little Beast.

King Humbert's gray hairs and the dye that was to cure them are the subject of an amusing little anecdote in the Berliner Tageblatt. The king, it seems, favors the iron-gray of age and sees nothing to object to in the years that lead to reverence and the silver hair. But Queen Marguerite was very zealous on the other side and wished to see what Paris and the coiffeur could do in the work of restoration. She therefore thought of an imperial hair dye, the only modern witchcraft that science allows. The king one day found on his dressing table the elixir, carefully packed, with directions for use, and guessed whence and why it came. Now, Queen Marguerite had a favorite poodle, white and fleecy, which was wont to pay her a morning visit every day, but on one of his duty calls shortly after the elixir arrived the faithful toutou arrived sleek and glossy as ever, but the snow-white fleece was changed for a garment of bluish black. As there was no reason why court and courtier should go into mourning, the queen was horrified at the change. "You poor creature," she cried, "how grotesque they have made you look." "And your husband?" was all the king said, and the queen asked no more questions. The poodle is said to have resented the parable: the snow-white fleece never came round, and having once dyed he was obliged to dye till the end.

SAIL OF A FLYING MACHINE.
It Lasted for a Minute and a Half—Might Have Flown Indefinitely.

On the 6th of May of last year I had journeyed, perhaps for the twentieth time, to the distant river station and recommenced the weary routine of another launch, with very moderate expectation indeed; and when on that, to me, memorable afternoon the signal was given and the aerodrome sprang into the air I watched it from the shore with hardly a hope that the long series of accidents had come to a close, says Prof. S. P. Langley in McClure's Magazine. And yet it had, and for the first time the aerodrome swept continuously through the air like a living thing, and as second after second passed on the face of the stop-watch, until a minute had gone by, and it still flew on, and as I heard the cheering of the few spectators I felt that something had been accomplished at last, for never in any part of the world, or in any period, had any machine of man's construction sustained itself in the air before for even half of this brief time. Still the aerodrome went on in a rising course until, at the end of a minute and a half (for which time only it was provided with fuel and water), it had accomplished a little over half a mile, and now it settled rather than fell into the river with a gentle descent. It was immediately taken out and flown again with equal success; nor was there anything to indicate that it might not have flown indefinitely except for the limit put upon it.

Sharpening His Teeth.
A southern bishop arranged to spend three days during his annual visitation at the home of one of the faithful, whose wife was a famous housekeeper.

A negro boy was brought over from the plantation to be the bishop's body servant during his stay. The morning after his arrival the bishop having failed to make his appearance Jake was sent to summon him to breakfast and found him shaving. In a few moments Jake returned, looking much alarmed. "Where is the bishop?" "He says he'll be here directly." "What was he doing?" "A-sharpenin' ob his teef."

An Economical Emperor.
Emperor Francis Joseph is cutting down the expenses of his household and putting an end to perquisites enjoyed by court servants since the days of Maria Theresa. They had an allowance of wood, wine and venison, with two wax candles in summer and three in winter. These are put an end to. Their liveries will no longer be their own, and they will not be allowed to sell the cold victuals left from the daily meals and the state banquets.

Victor Hugo's great story Les Miserables tells how Jean Valjean, a man of enormous strength held up the broken cornice of a wall until his arms were brought, thus preventing the collapse of the entire building. Sometimes when the human constitution is so undermined by disease that it threatens to collapse, the strong arm of Science upholds the tottering wall of life until Nature's sustaining power can be exerted.

There are hundreds of instances on record where strength and vitality were completely gone; the body weak and emaciated; the digestive organs powerless; the nervous system shattered; and all human hope of recovery apparently exhausted when that marvelous resource of medical science, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery by its wonderful blood-vitalizing, strength-making, flesh-building properties restored complete health, vigor and activity.

This remarkable discovery gives the digestive organs power to make rich pure blood full of the life-giving red corpuscles. Its nutritive properties are vastly greater than cod liver oil emulsions. It does not make flabby fat, but solid muscular flesh, nerve-force and vital energy.

Ralph Green, of Williamsburg, Mo., writes: "Before I commenced your treatment I could not take a drink of water without great suffering in the stomach. Could not eat. I suffered so I could not obtain more than three or four hours sleep at night. I was fast sinking. I had five different doctors to examine me, and each one treated me, but without doing me any good. At last my friends advised me to call for your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and to-day I am in better health than I have been for five years. I weigh 157 pounds."

Mrs. Kate Etter
OF MISSOURI,
Is Cured of Heart Disease by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

MRS. KATE ETTER wrote from Neosho, Mo., in March last. "Two years ago I was severely troubled with my stomach and kidneys, and a great affliction so unnerved me that my condition became alarming. The telegraph brought a prominent physician in a consultation which resulted in no benefit. I went to Wyoming for change of climate without benefit, was brought back to Atchison where nurses worked with me night and day to keep me alive to reach my friends here. My heart became so bad that my friends gave up all hope. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine alter nately and was restored to health. It is now months since and I am perfectly well."

Dr. Miles' Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nervine sent free to all applicants.

YELLOW AND OLD BLUE
A Combination That Always Has a Pleasing Effect.

The term "old blue," as applied to chinas, is made to cover a multitude of blues, all of which are effective in any way they are used, be it for table service or purely decorative purposes. Since Whistler showed its possibilities in his famous blue and yellow breakfast-room, the modern old blue, even in the cheapest makes of China and Japan, has found a new valuation in the eyes of appreciative decorators. Every variation of the shade is in itself a color motif, in harmony with which a room may become a veritable symphony in blue.

The Delft craze has come and gone, proving a mere whim of fancy, but "willow-ware" blue and "pagoda" blue are like the poor, always with us; yet they are by no means poor as art products, even though one can buy them as cheap as white porcelain ware. It was just this inexpensive Chinese blue that Whistler used on table, mantel and walls against his yellow backgrounds, even hanging little pots of it filled with ferns suspended by chains from the ceiling above the four corners of the table.

Take the dining-room of the average suburban home, for instance, and what a revelation of sweetness and light it may become through these simple mediums of yellow walls and blue willow ware!

I know of one such dining-room in a house having old-fashioned "ceiled" walls and wainscoting that was painted unmistakably yellow. In one corner there was the triangular cupboard originally built into the house. Through the glass doors rows of willow ware plates could be seen and cups of the same hanging under the shelves on brass hooks.

There was a window on the north side facing the river, with a low, broad window bench painted yellow and covered with a blue denim cushion. In the south side there was only a door, but the upper half was glass, letting in a flood of light, and a view of woods and fields. Over this was a shelf called the "hospital," on which were ranged a row of plates and the cracked teapots and pitchers that could turn a good side toward the world.

In the center of the table stood a squatly jardiniere of yellow Leeds ware with growing ferns, and all the service was of the charmingly contrasted porcelain, on which quaint blue gentlemen helped quainter blue ladies over impossible rivers.

Besides these blues mentioned there is the "mulberry blue" and the deeply, darkly, beautifully blue Staffordshire ware on which famous castles are depicted, and the "railroad" plates, made at the same English pottery and showing the first train of cars.

Some of these "railroad" plates bring $150, while the "castle" plates are offered for ten dollars, seeming to prove that the pottery makers, at least, rated locomotion above picturesqueness. These plates are large, and a single one shows handsomely as a plaque in an artistic hall.

An old blue bowl for cards on a polished mahogany or cherry hall table is also a most eye-pleasing combination of colors.—Upholsterer.

PINEAPPLE PIE.
Recipe for Toothsome and Inexpensive Pastry.

The present is the season when the inexpensive strawberry, or birds-eye, pineapple is in the market. It is not the proper variety for dessert or for preserving, but it makes a fair breakfast salad and a good pie or pudding because of its subacid flavor. One small "pine," which should not cost over five cents, is sufficient for a pie.

To make it, select ripe fruit and dig out rather deep eyes that give it the name of birds-eye. Cut the pulp in small silvers and mix half a cupful of sugar with it. Some housekeepers prefer to tear the pineapple in shreds with a silver fork, and it is always a mistake to cut any kind of a pineapple with anything but silver.

Put the pulp and sugar in a porcelain-lined kettle and stir for one minute. Line a ten-inch tin pie plate with plain pastry, fill it with the prepared pineapple, and cover it with puff paste. Brush it over with the white of an egg, and bake from 50 to 60 minutes in a rather quick oven. Use a pie plate at least an inch deep, with straight sides, rather than the shallow pie plates with sloping sides, which seem designed to allow the contents of the pie to escape on the oven bottom.

Dredge the pie with sugar when it is baked, and set it back into the oven until the sugar melts and forms a glaze over the crust.

Another way to make this pie is to stew the pineapple for about ten minutes, when it will be tender. Bake the under crust, filling it with rice or apple sauce, until it is done. After this, scrape out the contents and put in the cooked pineapple, covering it with a meringue made of the whites of two eggs, three heaping tablespoonsful of sugar, and the juice of half a lemon. Bake the pie until the meringue is done. It will take about 15 minutes in a slow oven, at the end of which time the meringue should be delicately browned.—Chicago Tribune.

Fruit Potpourri.
Now is the time to begin your potpourri jar of preserved fruits. Get a large stone jar, the size you think will hold all you want. Take as many boxes of strawberries as you wish, say two or three, and cover them with alcohol, and adding their weight in sugar, simply place the stone lid on the jar, leaving them to preserve in the unsealed jar.

The next fruit that comes into the market place in the jar with enough more alcohol to cover it, with sugar to taste, and so on, placing every fruit in the jar when it is perfectly fresh. Next winter you will have a very delicious preserve to offer occasional guests or to serve at afternoon teas.—St. Louis Republic

Johnny Exonerated.

Jennie Chaffie is musical, much to the disgust of the neighbors. She pounds a piano by the hour. A few days ago, while going through Johnnie's clothes, Mrs. Chaffie unearthed a dime, which she suspected he had stolen from her, all of which Johnnie denied emphatically.

"Then tell me where you got that dime?" she said, earnestly.

"The neighbors gave it to me, and I am to get a quarter more."

"What did you do for it?"

"Nothin' yet, but I am to lock the piano, and give them the key."—N. Y. World.
